<sup>1</sup> “It is well-settled that there exists, in both criminal and civil cases, a common law public right of access to judicial proceedings and records.” Littlejohn v. BIC Corp., 851 F.2d 673, 677-78 (3d Cir. 1988). “The ‘strong presumption of openness does not permit the routine closing of judicial records to the public.’” *In re Avandia Mktg., Sales Practices & Prod. Parties “seeking to seal any part of a judicial record bear[ ] the heavy burden of showing that ‘the material is the kind of information that courts will protect’ and that ‘disclosure will work a clearly defined and serious injury to the party seeking closure.’” Miller, 16 F.3d at 551 (quoting Publicker Indus., Inc. v. Cohen, 733 F.2d 1059, 1071 (3d Cir. 1984)). “Broad allegations of harm, bereft of specific examples or articulated reasoning, are insufficient.” In re Cendant Corp., 260 F.3d 183, 194 (3d Cir. 2001) (internal citation omitted).

In addition, to the extent that parties and third parties seek to seal information because it has been designated as “confidential” or “highly
